Introduction

Self-awareness is the foundation of professional development and growth. Gain insight into your work personality by carefully reviewing this report, which will help you develop a:

- deeper understanding of your strengths and growth opportunities,
- clearer picture of how your behavior impacts others, and
- better appreciation for people's personal styles and how to interact with them effectively.

MODEL OF PERSONALITY

The Golden Personality model is based on four core personality dimensions. Personality is the essence of who you are as a unique individual. It is reflected in what you say, how you feel about yourself, how you act, and how you choose to live your life. Knowing your personality characteristics will help you better understand your actions, feelings, and relationships with others. People typically favor one aspect of each of the following four dimensions. Keep in mind that preferring one versus another aspect is not right or wrong, better or worse. Rather, these preferences indicate ways of behaving that come most naturally to us.

Where you focus your energy

Extraverting: energy directed externally toward people and things.

Introverting: energy directed inward toward thoughts and ideas.

How you gather information

Sensing: process information in an exact, detailed, and literal manner.

Intuiting: process information in a symbolic and global fashion.

How you make decisions

Thinking: make decisions based on logic and rationality.

Feeling: make value-based decisions based on empathy and compassion.

How you approach life

Organizing: planned, organized, and orderly approach.

Adapting: open-ended, flexible, and emergent approach.

Portrait of Your Type

YOUR TYPE: ENFA

Extraverting, iNtuiting, Feeling, Adapting.

The ENFA is the type of individual who lives continually in the realm of the possible. When absorbed in your latest project, you think of little else. Your energy level is sometimes exhausting to behold. You are virtually tireless in the pursuit of your latest goal as long as your interest in the project holds.

Your infectious commitment and self-confidence enables you to have many devoted followers. Of all the personality types, the ENFA possesses an almost magnetic quality that enables you to have fun in almost any setting.

Your combination of Extraversion, Intuition, and Adapting arms you well to be a leader. You have a natural ability to understand others, to figure out what motivates them, and to appreciate their unique qualities without judging or criticizing.

You tackle an amazing variety of problems with ease, and the diversity of your interests is mirrored by the diversity of your friends. In fact, diversity is the universal key to happiness for ENFAs. You focus much of your energy on developing and understanding who you are, identifying your goals, and building meaningful relationships with others. It is important for you to be an authentic person, to be in touch with yourself, and to be capable of really touching others.

Frequently, you have the feeling of being on the brink of a great discovery about people or life. Your Intuition gathers information from the real world and then mixes it with imagination to synthesize a unique view of reality. You are your "own person" in every sense of the word. It is difficult to awe you with sterile rank and titles. You are an optimistic, independent person, who believes in yourself when no one else does.

In the long run, you will be wise to opt for a career and relationships that allow flexibility and that include the companionship of individuals with qualities similar to your own. Such individuals, like you, are apt to reject structure for its own sake and admire ideas for their intrinsic worth.

Personality Types

There are 16 different personality types. You are an ENFA.

Summary of Global Results

Your global results provide insight to how the four different dimensions of your personality work together to form your personality type. The results indicate your level of preference for each of two opposite scales. A strong preference is not necessarily better than a slight preference, or vice versa - the preferences simply indicate how strongly you favor certain behaviors versus others. You may have relatively equal preference, but slightly favor one scale.

SZ Responsible and Reliable

NT Competent and Visionary

Likely Strengths

You are likely to possess strengths (i.e., behaviors, skills, and competencies) that are common to your personality type. Review the strengths listed below and note those that are true for you. It is important to identify which strengths come naturally to you, as these are assets that you can leverage in your work environment.

LIKELY STRENGTHS OF AN ENFA

Contributions to an Organization

- Easily sees and grasps a wide range of possibilities.
- Acts spontaneously.
- Provides imaginative answers to questions or problems.
- Welcomes change and often acts as a catalyst for it.
- Has the versatility to excel in many different types of tasks.
- Enjoys trouble-shooting people problems.
- Brings a positive attitude, passion, and ongoing inspiration to almost any endeavor.
- Easily spots interpersonal fakes, scams, or destructiveness.
- Readily praises and acknowledges others.

Leadership Style

- Conveys enthusiasm and steps in when visionary leadership is required.
- Develops personal relationships with co-workers rather than using a hands-off, task oriented management or leadership approach.
- Accepts risk, particularly if people will benefit.
- Brings people and resources, across teams and functions, together.
- Focuses on areas of agreement, but easily negotiates differences among members, so everyone can get back to a harmonious environment.
- Leads with the belief that leadership and authority is granted by integrity, not position.

Questions to Consider:

Where can you best use your strengths?

In what situations or roles are your strengths most valuable?

PERSONAL NOTES

Growth Opportunities

You may also have growth opportunities - weaknesses or undeveloped skills - that are common to your personality type. Review the growth opportunities listed below and note which are true for you. Identifying growth opportunities helps you increase self-awareness and minimize blindspots.

GROWTH OPPORTUNITIES FOR AN ENFA

- Avoid getting too deeply involved in the personal needs and values of others.
- Practice setting goals; carefully choose a particular course of action that you can commit to, and then stay on course until it is completed.
- Pay more attention to details and routines.
- Do not take criticism so personally—turn it into useful feedback for personal growth.
- Pause and reflect first before bounding off in another direction—others can get easily frustrated by your ENFP tendency to switch gears in mid-stream.

Questions to Consider:

Recall situations where you could have been more effective.
What could you have done differently?
How will new skills change your work performance?

PERSONAL NOTES

Communication and Teamwork

Effective work environments are based on effective communication and team work. The communication style and team preferences listed below are typical of your type. Consider whether they are true for you.

COMMUNICATION STYLE

- Speaks with energy and excitement.
- Replies quickly with impromptu responses.
- Prefers communicating about issues in person rather than through writing.
- Uses lively, vivid imagery when speaking and writing.
- Sees the big picture and typically will present that first.
- Shares unique insights through unusual approaches.
- Persuades others with emotionally presented material.
- Shares personal experience to make a point.

TEAM PREFERENCES

- Contributes creative ideas along with humanitarian values and limitless potential.
- Is terrific at integrating people, resources, and overall vision.
- Has little patience with the small details, preferring to concentrate on the larger picture.
- Can sometimes lead the team off-track due to ability to see so many possibilities in a project.
- Becomes irritated by team members who think negatively or see through a small lens.
- Is an optimist about time schedules and workload, sometimes promising more than what is reasonable or "do-able."
- Becomes irritated by team members who do not respect others.

Questions to Consider:

When is your communication style most effective? Least effective?

What do you contribute to a team?

How could you be more effective?

PERSONAL NOTES

Motivation and Learning

Your motivation is what drives your work satisfaction and productivity. Understanding your motivation enables you to seek situations or tasks that best fit your personality. Learning style preferences help you recognize how you learn best. Below are motivators and preferred learning styles associated with your type. Review each and consider whether they are true for you.

MOTIVATORS

- Seeks variety, challenge, diversity, novelty, and new ideas.
- Wants opportunities for self-expression, and to grow and learn.
- Appreciates being affirmed, acknowledged, and recognized.
- Desires opportunities to use insights for the good of all.
- Loves to put out people-fires and create last-minute improvisations.
- Avoids situations where people are not allowed to participate and contribute.

PREFERRED LEARNING STYLE

- Prefers lessons that are adventurous and creative experiences.
- Needs time to explore possibilities, ask questions, and use imagination.
- Learns through a variety of methods including reading, writing, listening, observing, and interacting with others.
- Dislikes narrow structure or straight lectures.
- Excels when the teacher or facilitator takes a personal interest in him or her.

Questions to Consider:

In your current work, when are you most motivated? Least motivated?
How do you learn best?
